

The American Marketing Association is one of the largest marketing associations in the world, with over 30,000 members who work, teach and study in the field.

Becoming a member can move your career forward by connecting you with marketing knowledge, high-quality training, the latest tools and tactics, exposure to leading-edge thinking and unparalleled peer networking.

Top reasons to join the AMA:

VALUABLE CONNECTIONS AND EXPERIENCE

AMA gives you access to a vast professional network of colleagues and industry leaders. You have multiple opportunities to connect, from virtual events to a members-only online community.

Your local AMA chapter connects you with marketers and learning opportunities in your own area — and offers volunteer leadership experience.

These members-only resources give you all the information you need, all in one place — on MarketingPower.com.

- AMA Marketer's Toolkit: Dozens of templates, interactive tools and how-to guides
- Marketing Resource Library: The latest research, white papers and best practices, plus an extensive archive
- Webcasts and Podcasts: More than 100 on-demand discussions covering a range of marketing topics
- AMAConnect: Our exclusive online community, where you can network with trusted peers and view discussion forums, blogs, files and wikis

IN-DEPTH EDUCATION AND TRAINING

AMA conferences and events expose you to leading-edge thinking across a broad range of industries. They range from virtual events to research conferences to intensive, two-day training sessions. All local and national events are discounted for AMA members.

LEADING MARKETING PUBLICATIONS

AMA magazines and journals keep you abreast of marketing trends and best practices. Membership includes a free subscription to Marketing News — our flagship publication — plus a specialty publication of your choice.

EXCLUSIVE CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Our online Career Resource Center offers hundreds of marketing job postings, career tips, interview and resume guidelines, and an Ask the Expert panel.

And AMA's Professional Certified Marketer (PCM) program gives you a tangible way to showcase your marketing skills for clients and employers. You can earn the AMA PCM® designation by passing a comprehensive online exam covering the key areas of marketing.
